

FREILINGHUSEN ASSAILS PLAN TO PUT U. S. IN LEAGUE COURT

SEES DANGER OF GOING UP TRADITIONAL

Senate Candidate Protests Any Attempt to Surrender National Leadership

Atlantic City, June 6.—In a radio address here last night Joseph S. Freilighusen, Republican candidate for nomination to the United States Senate, made a forceful protest against our entry into the League Court and the League of Nations.

"The question involved is whether our nation shall retain or shall surrender its traditional political independence with respect to the affairs of foreign nations. It is a question on which every candidate for the United States Senate is in duty bound to express his attitude to the people. So far as I am concerned, if you elect me to the Senate, I shall vote against the entrance of the United States into the World Court. When the Senate before, I voted against our participation in the League of Nations and I regard the World Court to be part and parcel of the same thing. Indeed, the World Court, commonly so called, more properly should be termed the League Court, as I shall presently make plain to you.

MADE REPUBLIC GREAT

"From the time of the founding of this republic, it has been a tradition that while we as a nation were friendly with all other nations on the face of the political globe, we were antagonistic to none. That is what has made this nation great; that traditional American policy has permitted this nation to go on enjoying the greatest prosperity, the blessings of peace and contentment."

"Had we entered the League of Nations, we should have surrendered forever our right to maintain our national political independence, and if we enter the World Court, we shall be required to surrender our right to the League of Nations. I am satisfied that public opinion will stand up to our entrance into the World Court."

QUOTES EARLY MOOT

"What ground have I for asserting that the League of Nations and the League Court are part and parcel of the same system? In answer, I quote the first, one of the jurists selected by the League of Nations to draw up the statute of the Court, Mr. Bont said:

"We must first consider that this new court must be provided for as part of the League of Nations and the League of Nations is a part. We must accept the invitation to the council and recommend a plan for a court which is now going to be a part of the system of the League of Nations."

WORLD END LEADERSHIP

"Let us not forget, also, that the court was provided for in the event of the League of Nations, that the League members elect the judges of the court and pay their salaries and that besides being a court, it is in a sense the attorney general of the League and is thus bound up in the League system."

"Membership in the League Court would mean that our military leadership in international settlements would come to an abrupt close, and that we should be submerged among the factors responsible for the World War and for unnumbered disturbances of world peace in the centuries gone by. Recognizing the importance of America's position on this great question and appreciating it with a conscientious desire to do that which I believe to be for the permanent peace among all the countries of the world, I feel bound by the deepest sense of duty to tell the people of New Jersey with all emphasis that I am unalterably opposed to the entrance of the United States into the Court of International Justice."

ZEPP ON LAST LEG OF LONG TRIP HOME

Heads for Friedrichshafen After Brief Stop at Seville, Spain

Abord Graf Zeppelin, en route to Friedrichshafen, June 6.—We are on the last lap of our return trip to Germany.

The short stop we made yesterday at Seville was not long enough to allow us to get out to stretch our legs, as we only tied up at Cebrilla airport, five miles from Seville, for 25 minutes, landing there at 5:02 and departing again at 5:25. At 8:30 we had passed Gibraltar.

At the Spanish port we lost some of our passengers, including the Infante, cousin of King Alfonso, and who was the first member of Europe's royal families to cross the Atlantic by air.

We reached the coast of Spain at 8:45 in the morning, local time, and flew over a hill of German destroyers manœvering there. Then we followed the coast to Cape Espinosa and Berber House, where is situated the country seat of Infante Alfonso.

"You see," the Infante, "the trip has been a most triumph for Dr. Eckener, veteran of the skies. Most of the success of the Graf's trip must be attributed to its mechanical perfection. Its main engines were stopped only for the purpose of changing spare-plugs on the whole Pan-American jet."

The murmur of these engines has been made to the Infante, who is always the most cheerful of our passengers.

Conferees Quickly Agree on the Rates for Chieftain, Cheese and Rayon

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Acting with dispatch, the conferees on the tariff bill reached an informal agreement today on the challenged duties on rayon filaments, specialty cheese and frozen cherries.

The conferees, however, struck a snag in endeavoring to rewrite portions of the complex watch paragraph and it was doubtful if the measure could be reported back to the Senate today.

Representative Field, Republican, Illinois, regarded as an expert on the tariff, and Senator Buckley, Democrat, Kentucky, whose points of order against these and other raises since the bill last to conference yesterday, were called in by the conferees to aid them.

SENATE MOVES TO CRUSH DOPE EVIL

Washington, June 6.—The Senate struck a smashing blow at the dope menace yesterday.

By unanimous vote, it passed the Porter bill to create an independent bureau of narcotics in the Treasury Department. Narcotics and prohibition enforcement are now combined.

As two amendments were adopted, by the Senate the bill returns to the House, where a motion will be made to concur in the Senate amendments.

Both amendments are designed further to strengthen the arm of the government in combating the dope evil. One requires the destruction of cocaine from which non-bait forming extracts are produced.

The second, suggested by the American Medical Association, provides for closer co-operation of the federal and state governments in attacking the illicit narcotic traffic.

Representative Porter (R.), of Massachusetts, the author, has approved the changes. Endorsement by the House is anticipated shortly, in Porter's absence, because of serious illness, Representative Hawley (R.), of Oregon, chairman of the ways and means committee, is handling the bill in the House.

Farm Hand Kills Girl and Ends Own Life

Rochester, Mich., June 6 (AP).—A coroner's inquest today was expected to write an official final to the insane drama in which, police say, Henry Clouse, 46, farm hand, was driven by hopeless affection and a disordered mind to kill Marjorie Clements, 17-year-old daughter of his landlord, and then take his own life.

Bodies of the man and girl were found late yesterday morning, side by side beneath a blanket at the edge of a woodland clearing on an abandoned farm seven miles north of here. They had been dead for several days.

On the other is a head of Admiral Byrd with a map of the North and South Polar regions.

Capitol Girls Demand Ice Cream Privileges

Just as firmly as Boston schoolboys in pre-revolutionary days insisted to the British that, coasting was one of their "inalienable rights," girl employees at the State House today are demanding they be given the right to purchase ice cream within the capitol building, during office hours.

It all happened in this way: The State House restaurant, run privately, sells ice cream, but closes at 3 p. m. weekdays and does not open at all on Saturdays. To fill in the gap, a little competition was started by the man who runs the canteen and candy stand in the House. He was doing a rushing business when complaints reached Sept. of Building Fred Kimball. Result: Supply of ice cream banished, an enraged lot of girls.

Danville, Va., June 6 (AP)—Today, predicted as the time for his death through self-imposed starvation, found little change apparent in the condition of Frank W. De-

PLAN SHIFT OF TRAFFIC SQUAD

Police Station 21, traffic now housed in the Boston Arena on St. Botolph st., Back Bay, will be transferred to police headquarters at 100 Washington st., Boston, at 11—when.

Commissioner Hultman wants to make the change, but the department holds a three-year lease on a section of the arena property. If some way is found to dispose of this, the change will be effected, he said.

The first daily conference with newspapermen, he announced that traffic officers would be withdrawn from Massachusetts av., Commonwealth av. and Brookline av., where automatic signal lights are now installed. The withdrawal is in the nature of a test made on suggestion of Deputy Assistant Thomas F. Gooch.

Hereafter sergeants on division duty and sergeants in the bureau of criminal investigation will take the same Civil Service test for promotion, thus allowing where capability warrants, exchange from one branch to another. Hultman said there have been different tests with promotions strictly within division service or the bureau as the case might be.

The fund being raised for the family of slain Patrolman Franklin E. Dwyer has been increased by $31 received from the Seamen's Friend Service, the commissioner made known.

Hub Girl Says Men Won't Wear Old Styles

Hollywood, June 6—Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. That is the tone of several letters received today in the Marion Davies fashion contest, at the New Pantages theatre here, where Miss Davies' latest picture, "The Floradora Girl," is in play.

If the men are going to tell the women what to wear, the women are going to make a few suggestions for the men.

"They men want corsets worn, let them wear them," said one letter.

If men will go back to the styles of the nineties, the women will do likewise, declared Rosalyn Marsh, 203 Washington st., Boston.

"I just wonder if the men would go back to the days when they wore those skin-tight trousers, high collars, ruffled neckpieces and cuffs and hubbed hair," wrote Miss Marsh.

"They certainly would not! They are demanding more freedom from creating the wearing of shorts for street and evening wear."

"I would like to see our men in some type of corset or restraining," wrote Mrs. Vera Carruthers, 4125 Long-street st., Woodside, Long Island.

"We really don't like to please them but it is only fair that they should improve their mode to satisfy us. Their tummies need corsets."

What with so many society girls in business, and so many business girls in society, the idea of the old-time restrictions are objectionable.

Mrs. Flora M. Harvey, 109 Ashbury st., San Francisco, Cal.

To even dream that the American woman will permit herself to be tricked back into the slavish fashions of the 90's however "gay" they may have seemed to the past generation is unthinkable.

My prediction is that Hollywood will eventually become the Mecca of fashion designers, just as it is surely becoming the Mecca of playwrights, screen artists and opera singers. I even predict that Ellen Barrymore and Maude Adams will succumb to it. It is undoubtedly up to you, then, Marion Davies and other artists of the silver sheet, to make the fashions for American women what you will. Selah! Mrs. B. B. Martin, Bakersfield, Cal.

Put the Floradora Girl in a frame and hang her on the parlor wall. She belongs to an age that is gone, and God forbid she let her come back. When women began to wear short skirts and discard corsets they took a smash at false modesty, and made a great stride forward toward a healthier and happier life, which nature intended her to have. The fashions of today will make as good a mother as the mothers of yesterday. Rock, Caldwell, Lincoln Hotel, Sacramento, Cal.

About a week ago my wife was in a local "old style show" and wore one of her "better known" gowns of 20 years ago. And say! She did look more than 10 years older and was not a bit more graceful than when she wears a modern gown. And what is more, she was not by far, as fascinating!

C. A. North, Stanwood, Wash.

Years ago I heard an expression that "pretty women and rich men are rarely wrong." As I was never destined to be pretty, my plea has always been, "Lord, let me be comfortable!"

Don't expect us to adopt the styles of the Nineties. Mildred J. Brophy, 1212 37th st., Eugene, Ore.

Surely all these hindering and uncomfortable styles will not again be tolerated by women. Men dressmakers, suit manufacturers and corset makers care nothing for the health and comfort of our sex. They have their axes to grind. Women and men let us use to our own taste! Mrs. Caroline Ender Young, 2343 Broadway, North, Seattle, Wash.

There is rather sense nor art in the so-called style of women's clothes. There never has been and there probably never will be. She is a creature governed wholly by perversity. The whole energy of her being and initiation intellect is bent on attracting the male.

In the Nineties she did this by various deformities and absurdities such as the wasp waist, the viper's tongue (after marriage), button her ears, hoop skirts, standing on stilts, high heels, and dabbling her face with white paint. At the present time she has discarded all signs of decency, much less modesty, and by exposure of her person seeks the same object with added shame.

If women had any sense of art or style or comfort or convenience in dress she would adopt the knicker, give up her append, look like a creature, sensible and lovable.

S. J. Woodruff, 3846 Hamilton, St., Omaha, Neb.

Let's have skirts about five inches below the knee when sitting down. It will save the skirt from being pulled to pieces and a man won't have to bludge while talking to a lady.

COX IS IN FAVOR OF REPEAL

Columbus, O., June 6—Former Gov. James M. Cox, speaking before 3000 Democrats at the state-wide "victory dinner" and rally at Memorial Hall, last night, declared he unhesitatingly favors the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"As between the old saloon order with its lawless-control politics and whatnot, and the present setup, I would prefer the latter, but I prefer not to be compelled to choose between these two extremes," he said, "both are inhumane."

Cox, who was toastmaster of the dinner, declared he will not be a candidate for any public office, thereby routing strong popular rumors which had been brought to bear urging him to be a candidate either for U. S. Senator or governor.

Police Chief Kills Self; Had Slain Foe

Columbia, S. C., June 6 (AP)—A. B. McGraw, Brookland chief of police, killed himself today just before he was to go on trial on a charge of murder for killing Henry Martin. McGraw shot himself through the heart at his home. McGraw killed Martin April 6, 1929, in the emergency operating room of a Columbia hospital.

His father allows him $20 a week and he makes $7 driving a truck. The house hold expenses run $20 a week, all of which he told when exhibited by lawyers for Katherine McCormack, another servant, who is suing him for $250,000 for breach of promise. He said he had $14,700 in the bank.

Diplomas Awarded Many

Films Are Feature of Exercises Marking End of Spring Cooking Classes

The closing exercises of the spring term of the Martha Lee cooking classes were observed Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon. Diplomas were awarded to the brides and business girls' class, as well as to the homemakers' school, marking the closing of the classes until the fall season.

The features of the exercises were the showing of a moving picture of the Soroka Farm cutting off five years ago. On this occasion Martha Lee took over 2000 of her club members on an outing to the Soroka Farms and many of the present homemakers' class were interested in seeing themselves as others saw them half a decade ago.

"The Way To A Man's Heart," the latest moving picture of the Martha Lee Cooking school, was also shown.

Another interesting feature of the exercises was the decorating of an ice cream cake by an expert from the H. P. Hood Company. A Tercentenary Cake was decorated, as well as two birthday cakes, and the "talkies" of the demonstration was furnished by Mr. Richard Kloforn, advertising manager of the H. P. Hood Company.

Berwick sponge cake accompanied the ice cream, and there was a treasure trove of gifts for fortunate graduates. These included ten cases of Moxie, 4 large boxes Camille Marshmellow, large boxes of Malt-O-Wheat, 24 small boxes Malt-O-Wheat, 12 boxes large assorted, La Choy Chinese Foods Products, 12 small Introductory La Choy Assorted, 12 small Introductory La Choy Assorted, 2 five-pound boxes Pabst Cheese, 2 dozen packages individual Pabst Cheese, 2 boxes containing 12 packages Pabst Cheese, 2 large Connelly Ovens, 4 small Connelly Ovens, 4 cans Prudence Corned Beef Hash and 4 jars Cain's Sandwich Spread.

Pork Chops and Fried Apples Nice

Select 6 pork chops—of course we mean New England fresh dressed pork—cover them with milk and let stand for an hour. Drain, tip in fine crumbs, season with salt pepper and a little sage, and fry in hot fat until brown and tender. Remove and arrange on a hot platter. Cut tart apples in rings. Fry in the pork fat until brown. Place a ring on top of each chop and serve garnished with parsley.

Discoloration in the inside of the coffee pot is quickly removed by rubbing with a little salt.

You're Particular About MILK You Should Be Equally CAREFUL In the Selection of FRESH PORK

Suppose a man called at your home and said, "Madam, I want to sell you some milk that has been shipped a long distance before you get it." Suppose he said further, "Of course, Madam, it's chilled for shipment, but I can save you a couple of cents on it." You would politely but firmly tell him that freshness was more important to you than a couple of cents. You KNOW about milk.

Yes, what about Fresh Pork? Fully as important in the dietary of balanced meals as milk, it is often bought without knowledge of strict freshness. New England Dressed Fresh Pork is cut from U. S. Government inspected Pigs, shipped and delivered to your dealer within 24 hours. Dealers selling the best can supply you. FIMMEER HONORED AT DINNER

A touching tribute was paid the late Judge David A. Laurie and Oscar A. Grosberg at the dinner and reception in honor of Samuel Pinausk, vice-president of the New England division of Paramount-Publix, at the Coppley Plaza last night.

During his speech, Pinausk, who referred to his two departed friends as "a silent prayer," he said for them. The gathering of 400 men and women arose and stood silent for a minute.

Following a banquet which began at 7 p. m., Herman A. Mintz, chairman of the committee of arrangements, opened the postprandial exercises. He declared the object of the assembly was to pay tribute to his friend, Samuel Pinausk, whose career in the moving picture business had placed him in a position where he would have unlimited opportunity to make history."

SILVERMAN THERE

Mintz presented Associate Justice Jacob J. Kaplan of the Dorchester Court, as an incantation. After introducing Pinausk and referring to him as one who "typified in ideal," Judge Kaplan introduced Corporation Counsel J. Silverman, of the Boston Police Department, who brought the greetings of Mayor Curley.

"May I say to you, Mr. Pinausk, that I was instructed by Mayor Curley to say that he sincerely regretted his inability to be here and to let you know he appreciates the contribution you have made to the moving picture industry in our city."

ALLEN IN CHARGE

Frederic Cook, secretary of the Massachusetts Representative, General Allen, declared that the latter was in Chicago and had been unable to bring the greetings of the State. He said Pinausk's success was achieved because he never lost sight of the man on the range of the ladder below him.

"No man who plays the game on the level as Mr. Pinausk has," he said.

EVERYONE WROTE

Edward W. James of the legal division of Paramount-Publix paid tribute to the character of Pinausk.

Abraham P. Pinausk, brother of the guest said he was placed in an embarrassing position to reflect the views of the family to the gathering for turning out in large numbers on such a sweltering evening.

GIFTS PRESENTED

Judge Kaplan presented Mrs. Samuel Pinausk, who sat at her husband at the head table, a bouquet of flowers. This was followed by the presentation of a set of silver and other gifts.

DAILY ROUGHAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL IN ANY DIET

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is Effective Relief for Constipation. Also Adds from the Blood

Do you suffer from constipation? Are you one of those who have tried one "pocket cure" after another and still have no sense of permanent relief? If so, this is big news to you! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is natural, effective relief for both temporary and recurring constipation. It is the original—and today is included in the diets of millions of people who formerly suffered from constipation.

When roughage is missing from food, constipation is the consequence. The soft foods we eat today seldom include enough roughage. The simple necessity, then, is to see to it that sufficient roughage is included in our food.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the bulk that your system requires. In addition, it is rich in iron. Scientific research proves that nearly all this iron is absorbed by the system, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

GIRL TRAPPED BY SCARFACE

New York, June 6 (AP)—A man with a scar on his face is not necessarily a relative of Alphonse (Scarface) Capone. He might be a New York detective.

Rose Halperin, 23, had leisure to figure that out today in her cell in Truett Prison, where she is held in default of $15,000 bail as a material witness in the killing of Jacob Rothberg, dress manufacturer, Irving Ashkenas, a taxicab driver, is awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter, as Rothberg's assailant.

A private detective who had a quarrel with her followed Miss Halperin to Montreal, and, posing as "James Capone," a brother of Al Capone, got acquainted with her. He said Miss Halperin told him she had followed Rothberg to the street corner, where he was struck down. He said she also told him she and Ashkenas were in the pay of a garment union which was paying her $10 a week and paying $50 a week to Ashkenas' wife.

The domestic help problem is solved by having a mistress apartment. The plan is advertised daily in the New York Herald.

Durant Dealers Get Sales Pointers at Luncheon

Durant dealers from the Boston territory gathered with their bankers at a sales luncheon meeting in the Kimball hotel this noon, heard the story of what the automobile manufacturer and merchant of the day and the future must give the public to achieve continued success.

The speaker, Zac Dunlap, who recently was elected to the position of president of the American Automobile Association, declared that who gave automobiles the full order of a business of course, the writer in the days of the competitive field will be that customer, which is to come something, the law, the power of an automobile, it is not the performance of the product from the East, but to the customer, the dealer, and the public.

The modern dealer equipped as he is, Durant merchant with his maintenance plan, and virtually insure his automobiles for perfect performance and prolonged life in return for the premium paid by the customer, who will allow the few months of upkeep, he the Durant dealer will not allow the new car of the show window, but the automobile as it will be after hundreds and thousands of miles of actual service.

Dunlap declared that in his own territory, he has shown in 1929 cars during the last eight months he has shown an increase of sales of 100 per cent, most unusual in the history of the new order of success in the automobile industry.

"In view of the Durant, the motorist accustomed to the best and able to afford it today can find luxurious motoring at hundreds of dollars below the luxury price," Dunlap said. "This is further evidence of the wisdom of today's buyers. Value prices no longer place the part it did. People are more practical, and only do they demand value, but better still, they are able to recognize it."

Those attending the luncheon included bankers, insurance companies, new paper men and the entire list of dealers and their representation in this territory. Dunlap, from a busy schedule, he has to see to it that he is able to distribute the Durant dealer recognition in his own territory. Mr. Dunlap said that he has shown the number of cars, the results have been in the order of 100 per cent in 1929, because of the exclusive Durant financial plan, which is a plan that is a most effective of the low cost, life which counts, as well as the saving in gasoline, oil and other operating costs."

HULTMAN WARNING HALTS TONG WARFARE IN HUB CHINATOWN

EXTRA POLICE PLACED ON GUARD

Third Victim Is Slain In New York as Calmness Prevails in Boston

While Tong warfare continued in New York today, quiet prevailed in Boston's Chinatown, with an augmented police squad patrolling the district.

The calmness was seen as an effect of the warning issued by Police Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman.

The police were guarding against any retaliation for shots fired yesterday by On Leung at Hip Sing, according to the latter's claim.

In New York warfare flared anew when Louis Lee, a laundryman, was found shot to death in the rear of his Brooklyn shop, bringing the two-day total of Tong deaths in Greater New York to three.

An Yung, alleged "strongarm man" for the Hip Sing, was shot dead in his home yesterday by two Chinamen, gunmen, and Charles Kung, who said to be a member of the Hip Sing, fell under the blow of a hatchman in the rear of his Newark laundry.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney has nearly tripled the uniformed force in New York Chinatown.

PEACE COUNCIL SOUGHT
Just as a conference of Tong leaders may be called to discuss means of ending the outbreak, a peace council is being organized in Boston Chinatown. Hultman and Rupp, Crowley believe the warfare here is over. They delivered an ultimatum to local Chinese, declaring there must be no more shooting or police will resort to force to prevent such disorders.

DEMANDS CO-OPERATION
In talking with Wong T. Bor, director of the Chinese Merchants Association, the commissioner stated he would give the Chinese all the police protection they wanted, but they must recognize and co-operate in keeping the peace.

The commissioner was displeased when told that Yee Wah Sing, president of the Merchants Association, was supposed to be in New York and later said to be in Chinatown. A large crowd of Chinese followed the peace officials to every action of Chinatown.

HOLD 2 IN PAGE, SHAW CASE

Two more men were arraigned today in Middlesex Superior Court, charged with conspiracy in connection with alleged fraudulent selling of Page & Shaw, Inc. stock.

The arraignments of James J. O'Malley of South Boston and Louis Blankenburg of Mattapan, declared to be stock salesmen, brought the total of persons arraigned thus far to 12. O'Malley and Blankenburg pleaded not guilty to indictment charges of conspiracy to steal, conspiracy to defraud and conspiracy to sell securities without authority of the State Department of Public Utilities.

They were held in $2,000 bail each.

HUB COP FINED IN DRUNK CASE

While a Boston police stenographer took notes of the evidence, Patrolman Francis H. Monahan of Station 11 was convicted of drunk driving and drunkenness in Hingham district court today.

He was fined $100 on the driving charge, $10 on a charge of being drunk, and appealed. Hearing in appeal will be held at the October session of superior court.

The case went to trial before Judge Francis Gozian this morning after three continuances. Cpl. Michael Goff, Monahan's division commander, two inspectors and a police stenographer were present in defense. Patrolman George Berry of Hingham told the court the car Monahan was driving collided with another in Lincoln at May 21 and upon reaching the scene he found the Boston officer to be drunk and arrested him.

Patrolman Monahan has continued on duty since his arrest. Commissioner Hultman delaying suppression until the court hearing. Whether he will go before a trial board before hearing on the appeal was not made known.

Brookline K. C. Plans Communion Sunday

Among the guests will be Rt. Rev. Monsignor Michael J. Spillane, State Deputy-elect Joseph M. Kirby, Charles "Bandy" Chapman, Eugene F. Irwin, Francis De Celis and Francis J. McLaughlin. The council election will be held Monday evening.

A MILLION IN LAUGHS!

The annual outdoor music festival of the Newton senior and junior high schools will take place this evening on the high school grounds, and will represent the contribution of the public schools to the city's tercentenary celebration.

A total of 700 persons will take part in the event, including the Newton senior school band and orchestra, the high school chorus and the choruses of the high schools. If the weather proves unfavorable this evening, the event will be postponed until tomorrow evening.

NAME THREE TO PROBE SCHOOL EXPENSES

Committee of Experts, Not Residents of the City, Is Chosen by Goodwin

A committee of three, none of them residents of the city, has been appointed by Frank Goodwin, chairman of the Finance Commission, to probe the administration of the Boston public schools and the jump in cost from $600,000 in 1918 to $22,000,000 for this year.

The three investigators are William D. Parkerson of Pittsburgh, an educator of note; Reuben Whilden of Brookline, prominent builder; and Matthew Sullivan of Canton, N. H., a business man.

TO PHONE ALL PHASES
With the special Finance Commission's appropriation of $10,000, the committee will be free to search into every phase of the school system, including buildings, constant check on the course of studies, teachers' salaries and methods of administration.

HOPES FOR CO-OPERATION
It is hoped that it will be accepted in a spirit of co-operation by the school authorities in order that it may be determined, if possible, whether or not the cost of education in the city of Boston may be materially reduced without affecting the high standing Boston has always enjoyed in the educational world.

Chairman Harley, after having read the communication from Goodwin, declared he would give the committee every aid in its investigation and expressed the belief that was the attitude of his fellow-members on the school board.

He asserted he would welcome any suggestions offered to cut the cost of school administration, and he would place all the records of his committee at the disposal of the investigators.

Cubs Make Clean Sweep of Series by Winning Final

BRAVES LOSE TO INVADERS BY 10 TO 7

By JOE CASIMAN

The Braves battled valiantly to overcome the handicap of weak picking in the third and final game with the Cubs, but to no avail. The enemy triumphed in the end, 10 to 7, to make a clean sweep of the series.

Twice during the fracas the Braves were in front, once by a margin of three runs, and they came mighty near tying the count in the fifth.

They couldn't produce anybody who even resembled a big league pitcher, however, and had to take to the chin for the fifth time in the past four days.

Bobby Smith, who batted third, was the only one who could stand properly. Down a line for him, the way he batted, he would be a valuable asset to any team. He was the only one who could stand properly. Down a line for him, the way he batted, he would be a valuable asset to any team.

Oshorn Bad, but Tribe Hurlers Worse

Joe Oshorn, a relief hurler, went a long way for the champions. We rate him better than the Tribe's best because he couldn't throw a curve. Manager Joe M. McCarthy had two fingers warming up in the bullpen all afternoon and most certainly would have had to rely on one or both if the local boys had shown anything.

Jack Wilson's homer, his 15th of the season, came with nobody on in the fifth inning after he had been fanned twice by Smith.

The ball went on a line high up into the left field stands. It fell just in time to become a homer and a crowd was a work by sticking out for the third time.

Starnes' circuit drive, his second of the series, came with two on in the same frame. His smash traveled high in the air to drop into the left field seats close to the foul line.

INDIANS DOWN RED SOX, 17-7

Cleveland, June 6 (U.S.)—Nine runs in the initial inning helped Cleveland trounce the Red Sox 17 to 7.

Clinton Brown held the Sox to nine hits, including a homer by Teddy Morgan hit a homer for the Indians.

Milton Gaston, tall Sox star pitcher, had a tough afternoon of it, though he lasted less than one inning. Gaston pitched to just seven men, and six of them scored. Manager Wagner had to send the hurler to the showers.

George South went to the hill then and escaped the distance, despite the fact that the Indians scored three runs off him in the first two to the third, three in the fourth and three in the fifth.

STOCKS DRIFT LOWER, WITH MARKET DULL

New York, June 8—Though investors were unable to capitalize the $70,000,000 increase in brokerage loans today, the stock market sentiment was buoyant, and prices rose under conditions which were positively unenhanced from those of the last few days.

Investors offered new loans, a "phoebe" stock and the indifference of outside traders, however, were negatively enough to cause a cooling of the market. The market isolated stocks and groups of stocks to lower levels.

Heavy predictions by leaders of the stock and industry were without special effect in stimulating buying of stocks by either institutional or speculative investors.

Weakness in American Steel Mills, which dropped off 3 per cent to the years lowest price of 10 1/2 followed directly a new attack on the stock by the B. & O. and Industrial Alcohol declined to new low prices of the year, the latter feeling the effect of the passing of the dividend on the common stock.

SOME GOOD NEWS

There were some indications, however, that the commodity situation is clearing up. Some Chicago board members are becoming more optimistic as to the outlook for the wheat market. Silver re-

He said indications point to a strong silk market within a few weeks. A breakdown of Japan's

A

More Active Captains

Hultman Acts to Snap Up Department

Police Commissioner Hultman has acted with characteristic courage and determination in furthering his plans to bring the police department to the state of efficiency that is expected of such an organization.

The latest and most drastic move in his campaign to date—the transfer of nine of the city's 31 captains to other districts—is a decided step in the right direction. But the transfer itself is only part of his campaign. These captains know that they must now make good in their new districts. They are in effect on probation. If they do not get out and step lively in their new stations, they know they will be brought up on charges. If they cannot do the work, either because they are inefficient, or because they are just plain stubborn, they can be assured that men who will do the kind of work that Hultman will put in their places.

Commissioner Hultman's actions since he has been on his new job show definitely and positively that he means business. He is out to clean up the police department, and will not stop until he has not only cleaned it up but has also brought about a new way of doing things.

He wants action, and he will not be satisfied until he gets it, from the newest recruit right on up to the big men in the department. He has announced he will not be halted by politics or politicians in the department or outside. Boston knows that Mr. Hultman means what he says—and if the members of the department doubt his word now, they will soon find out differently and to their sorrow.

Mr. Hultman wants younger and more active men as police officials. It is unfortunate if many of the older men, men who have served long and faithfully, now find their ideas challenged by a new commissioner and by younger and more ambitious aspirants for the big jobs in the department. It is too bad, too, as some of the men transferred have been men of old-fashioned values in the old districts who were broken up. But efficiency naturally must take precedence over friendships in the police department as in other lines of work. A policeman must be a policeman first and all the time. He should be a friend to the law-abiding citizens of his district as a whole, rather than to any individuals. Friendships don't make good policemen in themselves. Rather they have ruined more good policemen than they have helped.

It is regrettable, perhaps, but the days of retirement with honors and a pension are nearing for a number of Boston's old-time captains.

Their retirement means new opportunities for advancement, new chances of making good, for younger men.

And Boston is lacking Commissioner Hultman to the limit. So long as he shows the independent spirit he has to date, he need have no fear of losing public confidence. He is demonstrating each day he is the man for the job.

The Relief Scandals

Destroying People's Generosity

Let them call it incompetency or inattention if they will, but the mishandling of soldiers' relief in Everett is nothing short of scandalous.

We are a fairly generous people in this State, having the most free-hearted welfare laws which the country knows.

And we find that our liberality in the matter of soldiers' relief has been abused with a prodigality that would put the royal spendthrifts to shame.

Soldiers' relief is an act of munificence and it was a sign of gratitude shown the dependents of war veterans. It was never intended to be a dole to those who hold real estate, who have fat bank accounts, to those who trapeze over the highways in motorcars and to those who spend half their lives in jail as the result of trying upon their neighbors during the other half.

First we have the ruthless mishandling of these public funds in Fitchburg and West Springfield. Now Everett takes its place in mortification beside them. And a further investigation would expose similarly humiliating conditions elsewhere in the State, no doubt.

The most efficacious means of destroying generosity is to exploit it.

Mayor O'Neill would do well, as he has promised, to take the administration of this matter out of the hands of the commission which confesses negligence at least, and to put it into the hands of a man of many war-veteran who has his eyes open, his head erect, and who can distinguish between actual need and reckless prodigality.

In that way confidence can be restored and open-handed generosity can be maintained.

Breaking Its Own Laws

Our Agricultural Schools

What curious motive prompted the Legislature to alter the management of our county agricultural schools?

In the past fifteen years three fine schools were established in Essex, Bristol and Norfolk Counties.

That these schools were capably and honestly administered by the three county commissioners and a board of four public trustees from each of the counties is a fact not in dispute.

Now it is proposed that the powers and duties of the trustees shall be curtailed and that an overlordship over the schools shall be created from among the commissioners of other counties which have no immediate interest in their success and which contribute nothing to their support.

It must be remembered that these schools came into existence by vote of the people of the three counties affected. And the fact must not be overlooked that the people voted for the form of management which has been in effect since the schools were inaugurated. The State thereby agreed to a contractual relationship which it should not alter or revise without resort to the approving decision of the same people.

We hear much about the duty of the people to obey the laws. What about the State, which makes the laws?

Frank Seiberlich

Frank Seiberlich, born in Jamaica Plain, October 29, 1874; died in Jamaica Plain, June 4, 1930; his fifty-five years among us was an open book.

We admired him because he was frank, impetuous, daring and a good fighter. In shape, some eggs depart from the shell as a loyal American, strictly neutral, and during the late hysterical days unafraid to admit the great race from which he sprang.

Possibly his efforts in decoding the imperfect election laws in order that the prize of the ballot might be protected will be best remembered in his twenty-seven years' activity in the political life of the city and State.
